

FATHER AND SON RETURN HOME...

Awaiting return to good old U.S.A., our rented car had been turned in at Heathrow. a 747 plane to be our transportation.

A right turn over Windsor Castle and north over the length of England, over Scotland, The Hebrides, the Southern tip of Greenland. Tiny white specks below-- seen thru broken clouds --in reality huge icebergs.

Safe landing at O'Hare and on way to Northbrook after most eventful and interesting eighteen days. We had visited seven countries and covered 12,159 air miles, and 980 miles by automobile.

Special thank you to Mrs. Ida McGlelland for her work in deciphering my spelling and converting this to the English language.

December 1971.